but straight Hardware talk. You may think you'll not read it, but you will. The beauty of business is to do business in a business-like way—keep a good clean dollar-getting stock, sell at reasonable prices, treat customers politely, and rake in the cash when it comes your way. Its time of year to get in out of the cold—hover over the fire—and the need of the hour is

HEATING STOVES.

I have some solid comforts in the old reliable "ROUND OAK," which needs no song of praise to sound its worth. The GARLAND—closing grate, latest improved; highly ornamental and nicely trimmed in nickel—a beauty. Detroit Stove Co's WOOD BASE BURNER, a late pattern—handsome, well made—a regular earth-warmer.

COOKING STOVES.

I have a complete line of best makes and latest styles. But don't come here to buy a cheap stove. I don't keep them. They don't suit my patrons. None but the best for me.

CUTLERY.

Let me jog your memory to the fact that I have the finest line of AMERICAN CUTLERY in this county—which includes the best makes of Razors—Pocket Knives for a regiment of whittlers, etc.

Lew Showerman is spending a week in the World's Fair city.

J. C. Dunning and wife of Bay City were in Paw Paw over Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Blackman returned to her home in Hillsdale last Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. Cole and little Margarine have gone to Hillsdale on a visit.

Messrs. Osborn & Mills of Kalamazoo were in town on business Monday.

C. P. Rawson and wife are visiting friends in Oshtemo and Kalamazoo.

Wm. Sexton has been granted a pension of twelve dollars per month.

Miss Franc Grannis is learning the art preservative of arts in this office.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dancombe of Keeler were in town Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Richards of Kalamazoo were in town last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Delos Harrington has moved into the house recently purchased of Wm. Simmons.

Now pay up all your election bets, square the books, and settle down to business again.

Mrs. Martha Bills of Dowagiac will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. C. P. Rawson.

Will Barton's injured arm is doing finely and he hopes to be able to resume work by Dec. 1.

Miss Laura Wilson will meet her class at nine o'clock on Friday. Studio at Mrs. Buck's.

Editor Chan. F. Smith of the Bloomingdale Leader made us a neighborly visit on Monday.

Editors Russell of Bangor and Rowland of Decatur were visitors at the county seat last week.

L. K. Woodman and wife spent Sunday last at Kalamazoo, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Prentice.

Mrs. Marvin Arnold and Mrs. Ad. Sill of Marcellus were calling on friends in this village last Thursday.

For the first time in years the Republicans of Cass elected their entire county ticket. All honor to old Cass.

E. K. Van Winkle, pastor of the Disciple church, will begin a series of meetings on the 29th inst. All are invited.

How about Fabe Martin's contract to turn the colored vote of Cass county over to the Democrats for value received?

It is now in order to congratulate our townsman, Hon. E. A. Wilson, on his election as member of the state board of education.

Hon. J. J. and Mrs. Woodman are attending the meeting of National Grange at Concord, N. H., which convenes to-day.

We this week give the official canvass of the vote of the county. It will be seen that it varies but little from our early returns.

N. B. McKinney of Lawton has been assisting in the office work at the T. & S. H. R. depot in this place for three or four weeks.

We understand that the party of hunters from this place now in the Upper Peninsula are not meeting with any great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rice have gone to Mine LaMotte, Mo., where they will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. J. D. Sanders.

And Wayne county, too. From the twelve representative districts of that county ten Republicans are elected. Where was the Junta at?

Harry Hunt has purchased a couple of lots and is building a "summer resort" in the southeastern part of the village, near the pond.

W. H. Adriance has had the interior of his house decorated throughout. J. A. Leach did the work and is now engaged on a similar job for W. H. Markille.

We received a pleasant call on Saturday from Mr. S. J. Prindle, an old time Paw Paw citizen, now a resident of Lenawee county, who is visiting relatives in this section.

Miss Frank Leavens, a member of Mrs. H. C. Sheldon's private school of music in Kalamazoo, will take a limited number of pupils in instrumental music in this place. Inquire at Goodale's store.

Mr. Horace Hallock, for over fifty years a merchant in Detroit, is dead. He was born on Long Island in 1807.

There will be a stereopticon lecture upon life in Japan at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening. Everybody cordially invited. Come and enjoy a rich treat.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will give an oyster supper this (Wednesday) evening at the church parlors. Supper served from 5:30 to 8 at 15 cents each.

Postmaster Remington of Bangor was among our callers last Friday. He says his collar and necktie will be left off on the 4th of March, anticipating a visit from Adlai and his little ax.

There will be a union meeting of the young people's societies of the various churches of this place at the Disciple church at 5:30 p. m. next Sunday. All young people are cordially invited.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will give their annual chicken pie supper in the church parlors on Friday evening of this week. Supper at 5 o'clock prompt. Tickets, 20 cents.

Mrs. M. B. Wilson, in descending a pair of stairs Monday, made a misstep and was precipitated to the bottom, sustaining injuries which confine her to her bed and which are feared to be serious.

The Beethoven male quartet of Kalamazoo college will give one of their delightful concerts at the First Baptist church in this village on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23. Full particulars will be given in our next issue.

The calendar for the November term of court consists of 4 criminal cases, 7 issues of fact, 1 imparlance, 4 chances of the first class and 4 of the fourth class—a total of 20 cases, which is the lightest for many terms.

Rumors are afloat to the effect that we are soon to have another electric light plant in operation, to be operated by steam power, but we can trace these rumors to no reliable source and give them for what they are worth.

Those who watch for "signs" say muskrats are building their houses very high and with thick walls, and reason from this that much rain will fall during the fore part of the winter, followed by exceeding cold weather. Rats!

Wm. P. Bennett, Cass county's judge of probate, is elected for the seventh consecutive term. The people of Cass believe the longer a good man serves in such an office the more valuable he is to the public. And we believe so, too.

Judge Buck held a short session of court Monday, at which George Wackerman pleaded guilty to burglarizing Desenberg's store at Lawton some time since. He was sentenced to three years at Jackson. Court adjourned to Friday of this week.

Instead of the regular Sunday evening services, the people of the First Baptist church will be treated to stereopticon views of Missionary life in foreign fields and explanatory talks on the same, commencing next Sunday evening. All are cordially invited.

The Scott Club at South Haven has completed arrangements for their Lecture Course and offer five entertainments for $1.50. The Bangor ladies have not been able to secure enough subscribers, and are consequently obliged to give up their contemplated course.

The whole number of school children in the state included in the semi-annual apportionment of primary school money is 663,755 and draw $557,554.20. Van Buren county has 8,948 children benefited by the apportionment, drawing an aggregate of $7,516.32. The rate per capita is 84 cents.

We desire to thank those of our friends who so promptly responded to our request for early election returns from their respective townships. Every town in the county with the single exception of South Haven had its full vote in at this office within a few hours of the closing of the polls.

Last Friday night between 11 and 12 o'clock M. S. Carney's drug store at Decatur was broken open. Entrance was effected through a cellar window, and about half a barrel of whiskey carried away. Several barrels of cider were also stolen from other places in the neighborhood the same night. No clue to the thieves.

The engine hauling the 10:40 a. m. train from South Haven yesterday became disabled when within a few rods of the station at this place, and a large crowd of passengers, expecting to connect with the east bound train on the central were disappointed. Some of them returned to town to try it again later, while others waited for the firing up of another engine which would catch the express for them.

The citizens of Kalamazoo called a meeting and appointed committees to solicit funds and supplies for distribution among the poor on Thanksgiving Day, and other committees to hunt up and report the names and addresses of those in need and worthy of succor. Here is an object lesson for those of our people who have an abundance of this world's goods. Will they look about them and see where they can extend a helping hand "in His Name"?

Two days after the election, the Courier of this place said that "although a majority of the Democratic state ticket is defeated a part has been saved, and upon joint ballot," and have a majority in the legislature," and that "this will insure a Democratic United States Senator from Michigan to take the place of Millionaire Stockbridge and who can say that Hon. George L. Yapple will not be selected to fill this most important position." Well, that was a pretty close guess for that sheet. Now if it will name the state officers "saved" and the Democratic "majority on joint ballot," it will enlighten some of us fellows who had confidently figured on Mr. Stockbridge or some other good Republican being elected to the U. S. senate.

A large audience greeted the appearance of the Shipp Brothers on Monday night, and for two hours they were entertained by the chiming bells, the zither and banjo duets, and especially by the finely executed selections of Miss Macey, who won the admiration of every one present. Though the music is not of a classical nature, still it is sweet and harmonious, and these young men show great skill in the handling of the bells. That this entertainment helps to give the variety so necessary in a Course intended for the general public, is fully demonstrated by the great demand for single tickets.

Dr. Henry A. Slade, a noted Spiritualist, formerly of this state, is insane at Sioux City, Iowa. Slade's career has been a checkered one and somewhat unsavory at times. He was born in Augusta, Kalamazoo county, fifty-four years ago, and for his first wife married a Mendon girl. His first and second wives died under mysterious circumstances and he cut a wide swath in Jackson and Detroit shortly after the war, subsequently going to Paris and London, in which latter city he was arrested and imprisoned for fraud. He now brings up penniless, friendless and insane.

The political foresight of Bert Cole and Pete Dillman in their attack on Judge Heckert is one of the marvels of the campaign. They seemed to care little for the interest of Mr. Killefer. In publishing the names of the supervisors who voted on the appropriation to the probate office for clerk hire, they invited attention to Mr. Killefer's absence. The question was asked at once: Where was Killefer? If the action of the board was wrong, Mr. Killefer could have prevented it. The inference is that he favored the appropriation, but at that critical point in the campaign he did not care to go on record. Pete was willing that Killefer should be "put in a hole" to enhance his own chances of election, while Bert's eyes fairly bulged out of his head at the prospect of getting control of the patronage of the probate office, and was no doubt promised a share of the $300 for knifing Killefer. They are a nice pair of posies.

"A Great Run."

The Courier thinks "Pete Dillman made a great run for judge of probate, cutting down his opponent's majority just one half." That this is but one of Bert Cole's many lies is proven in the same issue of his paper. If any one will take the trouble to examine the returns he will find that Pete's opponent was behind the Harrison electors just 116. This is no doubt attributable to the wilful lying of Bert Cole and his ilk. He lied when he said there were $200 fees connected with the probate office. He lied when he said that Judge Heckert's time was almost exclusively given to his law practice. He lied when he said that Pete Dillman was a fit man for the office of judge of probate. He lied when he said that Pete Dillman would not accept of the allowance for clerk hire, for a man who will draw $3 out of the county for a day's attendance on the board of supervisors when he was not present, as Pete did at the last January session, and take a day's pay out of his own township at a session of the township board for the same day, would not hesitate to take anything in sight; besides, it would have been an absolute necessity for Pete to have a clerk who was competent to run the office in the event of his election, and had he thought there was the slightest chance of his election he would no doubt have voted for the allowance. Bert lied when he said the allowance was a "salary grab," for it has nothing whatever to do with the salary of the probate judge; that is fixed by law, and the board of supervisors has no control over it. He lied when he said Judge Heckert pleaded pathetically with the board, the truth being that he made a statement of the facts, and the action of the board was taken without importunity or lobbying. He lied when he said Judge Heckert had his law partner, Mr. Chandler, talk to the board in favor of the allowance, for what ever Mr. Chandler said to the board he said voluntarily and of his own motion after four years' employment in that office and with a full knowledge of the justice of the request. He lied when he said the probate office was the best paid of any of the county offices. It is the poorest paid, when the importance of the office and the amount of labor performed in its management are considered. He lied when he said "about the only law," performed by Mr. Heckert in the office was to draw his salary," as every one can attest who has had business therein. In most counties, the probate judge appoints commissioners to hear and adjust claims against estates, while in this county this work is done by Judge Heckert himself, thus saving to each estate anywhere from $9 to $27. He lied when he intimated that the allowance was for past services for a clerk, when the action of the board made it take effect Jan. 1st, 1893. Nothing could have been more manly than to bring the matter up for action at a time when Judge Heckert's administration of the probate office was on trial. The people have ratified the action of the supervisors. The allowance was not made for Mr. Heckert, but for the office in the future, whoever might be the incumbent. It was right, and when the board deliberately allowed it that should have settled it with any sensible man.

It is surprising that there should be in Van Buren county a single Republican who would be influenced by the senseless vapors of an intellectual pigmy who has not had the ability to discuss a single principle of his party in the columns of his paper during the campaign just closed.
